NEW YORK, January 23 .-- Refugees arriving here from the ruined city of Kingston condemn the authorities there for the inefficiency shown during the recent disaster.

WASHINGTON, January 24--The Rivers and Harbors Bill has been reported to the House from committee. It carries appropriations of eighty-three million dollars. Items of two hundred thousand dollars for continuing the work in the Honolulu harbor and of two hundred thousand for the Hilo harbor improvement are included in the bill.

The approval of Speaker Cannon to the appropriations being made for the Monolulu and Hilo harbors, as reported in the mail advices to the Advertiser, has evidently had the effect of including these in the bill as reported from committee, and the same approval will most probably result in the items passing without much opposition in the House.

That the glare is not visible accepted as evidence of the fire being pretty well out all along the line. He could not have crossed the flow had there been a sign of fire near it and would not have taken the risk.

President Kennedy of the Inter-Island S. N. Co. states that unless there is evidence of activity on the Kona side he will not send out the Kinnu on Saturday. He had word from Hilo to the effect that up to and including Wednesday night there was great activity, in Kilauen. He is satisfied that the dispatch is correct but will not feature it until the information is confirmed.

It is a coincidence that the flow of 1887, over which the recent Kau flow ran for a number of miles, continued the precise number of days as did the one that occurred just twenty years later and seven days less than the flow of 1899. On this fact that the flows were not of long duration persons in Kona gave it as their opinion that the one just closed would not keep up more than two weeks. #### THE LAW'S LIMIT FOR THE GAMBLERS

"I am going to punish severely all the Chinese gamblers caught in the old gambling joints of this city," said his suit for salary during the time his Judge Whitney yesterday morning, when passing sentence upon the bunch of pai kau players captured on King street the night before. This important statement of the judge, showing that he is in thorough sympathy with the efforts of the police department to clean up the town, was duly interpreted to the thirteen or fourteen beady-eyed prisoners, with instructions to pass the good word on among all the gambling fraternity of Chinatown. There had been seventeen Chinamen in all captured in the raid, some of them forfeiting bail, being probably engaged in fighting an appeal from a former fine at the Circuit Court The fines and forfeited ball in this case amounted altogether to $170

The Chinamen and two drunks were the only ones to suffer at the hands of the court yesterday, the cases of six Japanese associates of the stockade Japanese in Iwilei, charged with vagrancy, being nol-prossed and the some-what similar charges against Leon Renaut and one Leonz being continued again until the 30th,

Contracts--Hawaiian Matters.

(Mail Special to the Advertiser.)

WASHINGTON, D. C., Jan. 10 .-The fortifications appropriation bill, which has been reported to the House but has not been passed there, carries two items jointly for Hawaii and the Philippines. One is for $400,000 for big guns and $600,000 is for em placements. As the item stands it is uncertain how much of the money would be spent in Hawaii. In fact it would be left to the discretion of the officers of the War Department.

When the bill gets before the Senate, Mr. George B. McClellan, who is doing very efficient work here this winter in behalf of Hawaiian matters, will appeal to the appropriations committee at that end of the Capitol to specify how much shall be spent in the Hawaiian Islards.

Mr. McClellan has also arranged for a hearing before the Agricultural Committee of the House to secure ar additional appropriation for the Experiment Station at Honolulu. That station has been having $15,000 a year from the government for current maintenance. A law enacted last session allows an increase to $24,000 for similar stations in various States but the government's law officers have decided that the law does not apply to Ha-Mr. McClellan will urge the waii. Agricultural Committee to vote the additional sum and he will also ask the committee to vote an additional appropriation of $15,000 to provide for soil surveys in the islands. The report of the Board of Engineers of the War Department on the Hilo Breakwater project has been forwarded to the Speaker of the House. It did not include, however, some important data and an effort is now being made to have that data forwarded to the Speaker and printed with the report.

Will Cooke, the New York manager of Alexander & Baldwin, and Mrs. Cooke arrived here last Saturday and remained for a few days visiting friends of Mrs. Cooke.

Sunday night the new Oahu County Attorney, Mr. Catheart, and Mrs. Cathcart arrived here from Honolulu. He is the attorney representing Clinton J. Hutchins in the suit over the ownership of the Kona railroad. Judgment has been given in Mr. Catheart's favor in Honolulu but the case has been taken to the United States Supreme Court here.

Mr. D. L. Withington, attorney for the Honolulu Rapid Transit Company in its tax appeal cases and also at torney in several other cases pending before the Supreme Court, arrived here Monday morning. Both Mr. Withington and Mr. Catheart were dismayed to find that the Court had set the several Hawaiian cases pending before it for March 18. Mr. Withington immediately left to return to Honolulu but Mr. Catheart is endeavoring to have his case advanced so that he can argue it now. It is believed that if Mr. Withington had remained to join with Mr. catheart in the request the court would have granted it, because of the long distance the attorneys had traveled. The Court fixed the date for March 18 the day after the attorneys sailed. This was due to a misunderstanding, because it was supposed that there would be ample time in which to notify them by cable, before they would sail to be here on the date originally fixed.

W. H. Hoogs has also returned to Washington from San Francisco to be present at the opening Saturday of bids for the digging of the Panama Canal. The Pacific Dredging Company, of which he is a member, is one of the intending bidders. Mr. Hoogs tractors expect there will be another postponement, as there is being shown tration. The officials of the Canal Commission, however, may that they fully expect the bids will be opened

Mr. Hoogs After Panama Taylor Arrests Burglar and Recovers Much Booty.

An important capture was made by the police last night, the burglar who had robbed the jewelry store of Geo. Haffner on the 13th of the present month being arrested and a considerable portion of the missing jewelry recovered. The arrest was made by Detective Taylor, the prisoner proving to be Ah Poi, a criminal with a bad local record.

The Haffner robbery took place on the evening of Sunday, the 13th, just six days after Sheriff Iauken had taken hold of police affairs, the amount of the booty secured by the thief, over

Chief Detective A. P. Taylor.

$1000, making the robbery one of the most important which has happened in the city for some time. There was very little for the police to proceed upon, their suspicions being at first directed toward a number of boys as it had seemed impossible for a man to gain access to the store in the way that the robber had entered. It was in following up this suspicion that Taylor unearthed the number of petty robberies committed by several gangs of boys about the city, for which there have been several arrests and convictions. It also happened that this investigation led the police into securing information which resulted in the arrest of Ah Poi last night.

One of the juvenile robberies was committed in the jewelry store of T. Toy, a Japanese doing business on Beretania avenue near the junction of King. the restoration of a number of watches enlisting Mr. Toy as a strong friend and ally of the police. Knowing that a watch was being kept up for stolen jewelry, Toy advanced $20 on a lot offered him for sale by a strange Chinaman on Wednesday night, taking the jewelry at once to the police station, where he inquired for the Chief of Detectives and turned it over to him for a possible investigation. Taylor had a list of the missing Haffner jewelry and a comparison showed that the articles brought were all of those enumerated on the list with the exception of some of the most valuable Arrangements were then made with Toy for the police to watch his shop last night, when the Chinaman was to return for the balance of the $50 agreed upon as the price of the loot. Accordingly, Taylor and Detective Duvauchelle secreted themselves in the Japanese store, while Deputy Sheriff Jarrett watched the premises from across the street. After waiting two hours the ponce were rewarded by the Chinaman putting in an appearance, walking through the shop and into a living room at the rear. Here he was at once put under arrest by Taylor, Jarrett and Duvauchelle guarding the exits.

A search of the prisoner failed to locate any more jewelry, although half the money he had received from Toy the night before was recovered. The Chinaman was taken to the station and booked for investigation, after which Taylor and Joe Leal visited his home on School street extension, near Llitha, where his Hawaiian wife was also arrested and booked for investigation. A cursory search of the premises falled to bring to light any more of the

The recovered jewelry includes six of the fifteen stolen watches, eight out of thirty-two rings, eight out of nine fobs, eight out of fifteen watch chains, ali the missing vest chains, the nine (Continued on Page Five.)
